INTEL Docket No.: P17683 Express Mail Label No.: EL963891334US

ABSTRACT

5

A system may include reception of a first signal representing a first supply voltage value associated with a first supply current value, and representing a second supply voltage value associated with a second supply current value. Some embodiments further include generation of a supply voltage signal having a voltage value based at least in part on the first signal.